Denice Kronau appointed new Chief Diversity Officer at Siemens

Denice Kronau (51) has been appointed Chief Diversity Officer at Siemens, effective June 1, 2010. A U.S. citizen, Ms. Kronau was most recently CFO of the Diagnostics Division of Siemens' Healthcare Sector. "With Denice Kronau we have found a highly experienced personality who enjoys an excellent reputation both inside and outside Siemens. She will shape the second phase of our Diversity Initiative. Our aim now is to unleash our dynamic global networks in order to foster diversity in every corner of Siemens," said Siemens President and CEO Peter Löscher.

Denice Kronau has worked for Siemens since 2002. She was appointed CFO of Siemens' U.S. Regional Company in 2008 and CFO of the Diagnostics Division of the company's Healthcare Sector in 2009. Before joining Siemens, Ms. Kronau worked for a number of companies in the U.S. and Europe, including Diageo, Kraft and Phillip Morris.

Siemens AG (Berlin and Munich) is a global powerhouse in electronics and electrical engineering, operating in the industry, energy and healthcare sectors. For over 160 years, Siemens has stood for technological excellence, innovation, quality, reliability and internationality. The company is the world's largest provider of environmental technologies, generating €23 billion – nearly one-third of its total revenue – from green products and solutions. In fiscal 2009, which ended on September 30, 2009, revenue totaled €76.7 billion and net income €2.5 billion. At the end of September 2009, Siemens had around 405,000 employees worldwide.
