SIEMENS
Ingenuity for life
Technology Quiz
Question Book
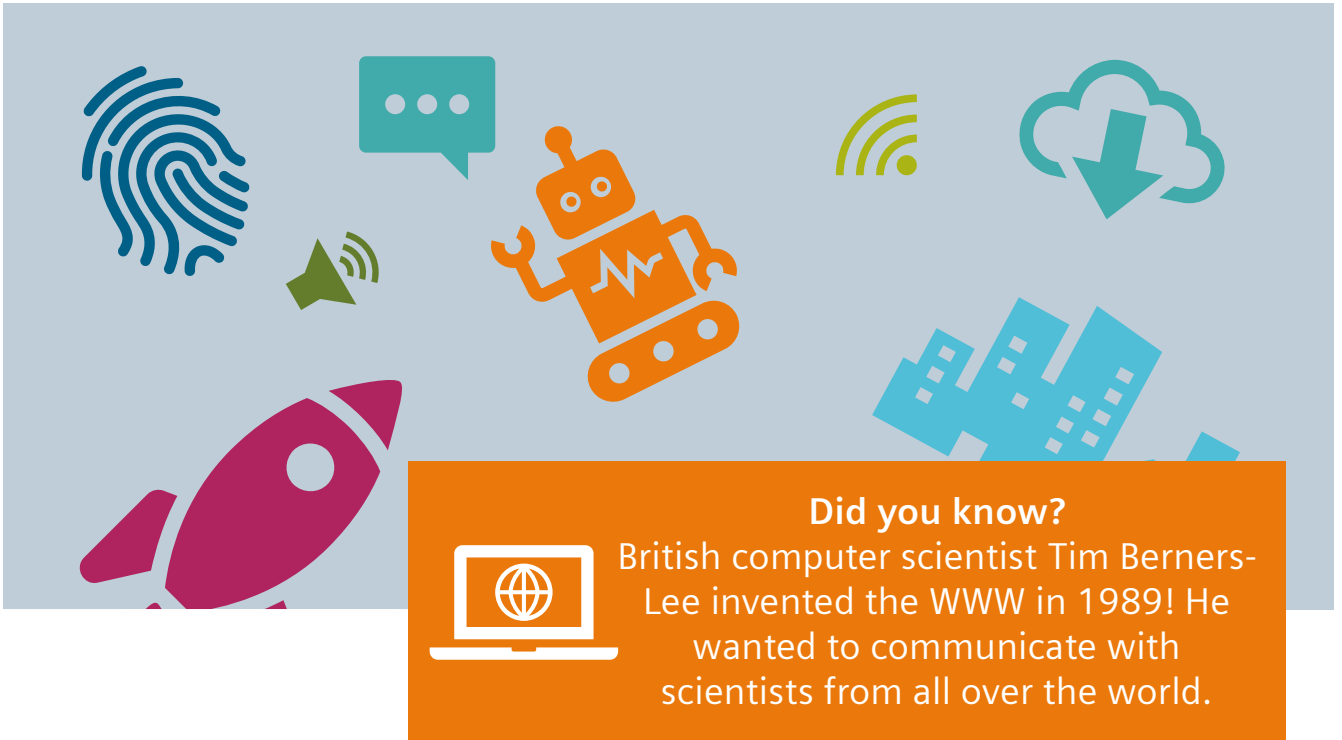

Technology impacts every aspect of modern life from communicating with each other, travelling to school, getting to space and loads more! Can you find all the answers to this technology quiz?

Question 1
What is the name for a computer pointing device?

Question 2
What is the name of the famous rover sent to explore Mars in 2011?

Question 3
Which amount of memory is bigger: 1TB, 1GB, 1KB or 1MB?

Question 4
In a website address what does WWW stand for?

Question 5
What was the first emoticon ever used?

Question 6
How many dots are used in each letter in the Braille system?

Question 7

What year was the first apple iPhone released?

Question 8

How many bits are in a byte?

Question 9

What did Alan Turing's computer do in World War II?

Question 10

In software engineering what is a bug?

Question 11

Is a computer keyboard hardware or software?

Question 12

In 1875, Alexander Graham Bell invented a communication device. What was this invention?

Question 13

Which umbrella term is used to refer to a variety of forms of intrusive computer software including viruses, spyware, worms, and trojan horses?

Question 14

How many computer languages are currently in use?

Question 15

How many digits exist in the binary system of numbers?

Did you know?

Modern Smart Phones have over 100,000 times more processing power than the computer in Apollo 11. Apollo 11 was the first Lunar Module that landed humans on the moon!

Did you know?
Google is the world's most popular search engine. 3.5 billion Google searches are made every day!

Score: /15

Interested in the technology powering our future?
Learn about the future of transport and take the Self-Drive Challenge. Scan the QR code and Play now!

siemens.co.uk/education