

Disclaimer

We wish to caution the students, parents, jobseekers, educational institutions and the public at large that Siemens Limited and/or any of its affiliates or group companies ("Siemens") have not formed or registered any charitable trust in India to offer any Scholarship program. As a policy, Siemens does not authorize external parties to conduct scholarship drives or extend offers of employment on its behalf. It is also not our policy to charge or collect fees of any kind from educational institutions or from candidates for participation in a scholarship and/or recruitment event or to receive resume, CV's or offers of employment. Request you to <https://new.siemens.com/in/en/company/sustainability/corporate-citizenship.html> for any technical and/or educational training or scholarship program offered by Siemens.

Any person or organization dealing with unauthorized parties is doing so at their own risk. Siemens is not responsible for any consequential losses (monetary or otherwise) that are incurred. Siemens will also not have any obligation to provide scholarship, training and/or employment to anyone who has been issued a fraudulent offer letter, or to offer any other recourse whatsoever. In order to verify the authenticity of any Siemens scholarship, training or recruitment event or Offer letter you can write to us at report2siemens.in@siemens.com.
