Cross-holding caps likely for OTTs-telcos

Officials said that partnerships help in getting captive customers and even marketing and advertising synergies get created that reduce costs in these areas. If a strong regulatory structure is not put in place right now, problems may come up tomorrow once one or two players consolidate their position very strongly.

So far the government has been working on data protection and privacy but has not paid attention towards stake buys. There's a Telecom Regulatory Authority of India guideline that prevents discriminatory data pricing. Under this, if there's an alliance between an OTT and a telco, either party cannot offer any services free or at a lower rate to its own set of customers vis-a-vis customers of other service providers if the service is available on the internet. This guideline checks, for instance, if to offer FB services free to its customers.

Officials said regulations have been put in place and when a particular trend has come into play and now since equity purchase has also come, a regulatory structure needs to be put in place. It has, however, still not been decided whether this regulatory task would be assigned to CCI or Trai.

Makers bet big on subcompact SUVs, the new youth favourite

Rajeev Singh, partner & leader, automotive, Deloitte India, says the ongoing shift to subcompact SUVs is also because these enjoy higher resale value compared to a hatchback or an entry-level sedan. He adds that a large number of used cars go to smaller towns where people are now preferring SUVs — due to their higher ground clearance — as these regions may not have as good a road infrastructure as in urban areas. "This leads to more demand in the aftermarket, and thus higher resale value of a new SUV," he says.

Som Kapoor, partner, automotive sector, EY India, agrees. "SUVs, in general, have comparatively more space, better comfort, better driving experience and manoeuvrability," he says. "Initially, hatchbacks were the first car for most Indian buyers, followed by entry-level sedans, and now subcompact SUVs are taking that place."

In urban markets in particular, Kapoor says the average car-buying age is coming down, and younger buyers, in general, prefer good driving dynamics and customisation over traditional features such as fuel efficiency. "This is not to suggest that SUVs are comparatively poor on fuel efficiency."

Samsung regains number 2 position

Samsung also partnered with Benow and Facebook, enabling offline retailers to start sales using digital platforms, thus adhering to social distancing norms, IDC added.

Vivo, which slipped to third position, recorded shipments of 3.2 million units, declining 42.9% y-o-y in Q2 2020. Though it retained the fourth position in online channel on the back of Z/U series, Vivo slipped to the second slot in the offline channel with 26.5% share. The affordable Y series continued to garner the majority of its volumes, though stock issues remained.

Samsung was the undisputed leader till the first half of 2017 calendar year, but was replaced for the first time in October-December 2017 by Xiaomi. Two years later, it lost the second spot to Vivo.

Overall, IDC said the smartphone market witnessed a short 50.6% y-o-y decline in the second quarter to 18.2 million units, as India remained under lockdown through the first half of the quarter.

"Vendors faced major supply chain disruptions at the beginning of the quarter, and the shortage continued into the rest of the quarter as factories operated at partial capacity even after the lockdown was lifted. Components and parts remained at the ports waiting to be cleared, especially for China-based vendors," the report added.

By June, sales increased mainly due to the pent-up demand from the lockdown period. However, purchases were mainly driven by availability rather than by choice.

Let's get phygital, say retailers as pandemic revolutionises shopping

Shoppers can even earn points on every purchase by scanning their bills and redeem those points to avail personalised discounts on the app, said Gajendra Singh Rathore, senior centre director, Phoenix Market City.

The mall is already offering concierge services for its patrons where they can select merchandise and products from catalogues or through assisted virtual shopping and even place orders through WhatsApp. While payments are online, contactless delivery is by a concierge.

Select Citywalk is also launching a digital catalogue called 'The Home Edition' that allows one to shop from home. One can browse through the catalogue pages featuring the latest styles and products.

To order, one can send the product code to the mall WhatsApp business number and get the products delivered home. Says Yogeshwar Sharma, executive director and CEO, Select Citywalk, "We are continuously innovating in the new normal to be closer to our customers and are sure that the digital catalogue will be much appreciated. It's a trip to the shopping centre without venturing out of the house, with all the convenience, ease and delight of shopping for the best brands."

Contactless dining is enabled at restaurants and food courts by digital orders and payments. The four-step process involves scanning the QR code with mobile, tapping on the notification link, ordering food — either dining in or takeaway — and paying online.

Since many changes would be new to visitors, malls are also deploying special task forces to help customers and see if norms are followed. Sachin Dhanawade, chief operating officer (COO), retail & real estate, Grauer & Weil (India), which operates Growl's 101 mall in Mumbai, says, "A specially trained staff force has been formed that will assist and guide customers to follow the dos and don'ts of the new norms within the mall."

Besides maintaining sanitation and routine precautions like air cleaning, etc, the use of Aarogya Setu app has also been mandated in almost all malls for both employees and visitors, and the app is checked at entry points.

However, with stores shut for the second slot months together, businesses in malls continue to be slow. Crisil predicted in a recent analysis of the top 10 malls in India that the revenue of mall operators is set to halve this fiscal due to the lockdown. A major reason is that gaming zones, restaurants, multiplexes and food courts that attracted crowds remain closed. In such a situation, sanitation and phygital efforts are directly proportional to better footfalls.

The average footfall presently at Ambience Gurgaon is around 30,000, while at Ambience Vasant Kunj it is around 20,000 on a weekly basis. Prior to the lockdown, the numbers were 75,000-90,000 during weekends and 35,000-45,000 during weekdays in the Gurgaon mall and 55,000-65,000 in Vasant Kunj on weekends and 27,000-40,000 on weekdays.

For Select Citywalk, footfalls before the lockdown had been 30,000-35,000 on weekdays and 40,000-45,000 on weekends. During the first month of Unlock 1, Select Citywalk witnessed 10,000 footfalls daily on an average. Currently Select Citywalk has almost 90% occupancy.

While the footfalls have been low, about 40% of pre-Covid times, the conversions have increased to about 70% from about 35-40% previously, notes Susil S Dungarwal, chief mall mechanic at Mumbai-headquartered Beyond Squarefeet Advisory, India's premier mall advisory that provides end-to-end solutions in mall development and mall management.

Export contraction just 5% in Aug: Goyal

This has enabled the railways to move 4% more goods, year-on-year, in the past 11 days.

While highlighting the lofty goals of the Atmanirbhar Bharat initiative and the role of the government as an enabler of sound business environment, Goyal asked industry to stop relying on 'crutches of subsidies'. Instead, it should come out with its own solutions to correct what they think is wrong, based on their own strength. That would mean industry has to try to improve competitiveness and self-reliance. Goyal's emphasis on industry's self-reliance comes at a time when he is in talks with the finance ministry for an 'early resolution' of the issue of a massive cut in benefits under the Merchandise Export From India scheme (MEIS) by the revenue department.

The revenue department has capped the outlay for the MEIS at just ₹9,000 crore for the April-December period, which means exporters may be deprived of over two-thirds of the benefits they usually get under this scheme. The MEIS outgo was about ₹40,000 crore in FY19 and ₹45,000 crore in FY20. For this fiscal, the budgetary allocation was to the tune of ₹27,000-30,000 crore, according to industry sources, although there is no official word on it.

Coronavirus aid talks collapse in US; no help expected for jobless now

A LAST-DITCH EFFORT by Democrats to revive Capitol Hill talks on vital Covid-

19 rescue money collapsed in disappointment at week's end, making it increasingly likely that Washington gridlock will mean more hardship for millions of people who are losing enhanced jobless benefits and further damage for an economy pummeled by the still-raging Coronavirus. AP
