

Ready for a flying start of your career?

Join our 1-year #NextStep Internship Program!

Still wondering if sales are your true calling in life? Or is it the engineering? And why not business support? Stop guessing and apply for our 1-year #NextStep internship program to see how the land lies in a real business environment!

What you will DO within the #NextStep program:

- Get acquainted with the various Siemens businesses within 4-month rotation periods
- Gain a real experience with the latest cutting-edge technologies
- Have dedicated mentors who will support and train you
- Have access to a variety of courses and trainings according to a pre-selected plan
- Receive fair remuneration for the work done
- And, last but not least, have a REAL chance to get a job offer at Siemens after or even during the program

What you will NOT DO within the #NextStep program:

- Fetch coffee to your managers as you've seen in the movies ("Cafe au Lait, with 2 drops of Cashew milk and three teaspoons of organic brown sugar ... With 2 drops of milk, I said !");
- Spend your day on social networks until you're told to shred some documents;
- Establish close emotional connection with the copy machine after spending long hours together;
- Get bored.

What we offer:

- An environment where everyone can bring their whole self to work and feel a sense of belonging.
- Flexible working mode with options for part or full time
- Competitively paid internship
- Real opportunity for career path at global leading technology company

Already intrigued? Here's what you should bring to the table for a successful application:
