

Munich, Germany, October 23, 2009

Siemens signs cooperation agreements with Joschka Fischer and Madeleine Albright

Siemens AG has retained former German Foreign Minister Joschka Fischer and former U.S. Secretary of State Madeleine Albright as consultants on topics relating to foreign affairs and corporate strategy. The unparalleled range of experience and unique networks at the disposal of these two prominent individuals will augment the company's strategic position as one of the world's leading providers of answers and solutions to the challenges arising from the megatrends globalization, urbanization, climate change and shifting demographics. Consulting will be provided on related social and geopolitical issues and the changing balance in the global economy. A respective agreement was signed in Berlin in mid-October.

Siemens AG (Berlin and Munich) is a global powerhouse in electronics and electrical engineering, operating in the industry, energy and healthcare sectors. The company has around 410,000 employees (in continuing operations) working to develop and manufacture products, design and install complex systems and projects, and tailor a wide range of solutions for individual requirements. For over 160 years, Siemens has stood for technical achievements, innovation, quality, reliability and internationality. In fiscal 2008, Siemens had revenue of €77.3 billion and a net income of €5.9 billion (IFRS). Further information is available on the Internet at: www.siemens.com.