

Siemens Integrity Initiative continues its commitment to the global fight against corruption

- New Evolve Funding Round launched on October 1, 2025
- A total of Euro 12 million in funding committed by 2030
- 7 projects will train 50,000 people and implement 30 Collective Action initiatives

Siemens AG announces a commitment of Euro 12 million in funding under the new Evolve Funding Round of the Siemens Integrity Initiative. Established in 2009 following the now fulfilled settlements with the World Bank group and European Investment Bank, the Siemens Integrity Initiative has disbursed over USD 100 million in 4 funding tranches over 15 years to 85 projects that support Collective Action and Education and Training to fight corruption and create fair market conditions for sustainable growth.

At Siemens, Collective Action is embedded in our Business Conduct Guidelines as a key strategic response to compliance challenges in numerous markets.

Seven new projects will each receive between Euro 1.2 million and Euro 2 million in funding over a period of three to four years. As one of the Siemens DEGREE targets, the Siemens Integrity Initiative aims to fight corruption globally by training 50,000 people and implementing 30 Collective Action initiatives by 2030.

Short-listed expert organizations out of the previous Golden Stretch funding round were invited to submit proposals for funding in April 2025. After a detailed evaluation seven organizations started project activities in October 2025:
