

Siemens Advanced Motor Test Centre receives NABL accreditation

- Advanced Motor Test Centre (AMTC), Kalwa, is the first among Industrial Motor Manufacturers in India to receive NABL (National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories) accreditation for testing Industrial Motors.
- AMTC is equipped with 8 fully-automated test benches capable of testing Motors in the wide range of 120 W to 3000 kW.

Siemens Limited announced that its state-of-the art Advanced Motor Test Centre (AMTC) at Kalwa Works, Mumbai, received the prestigious accreditation from the National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories (NABL), Government of India. The accreditation is the first of its kind in India for Industrial Motor manufacturers.

Siemens AMTC received the accreditation based on criteria meeting international standard ISO/IEC 17025:2005 'General requirements of the testing and calibration laboratories'. The requirements include enhanced confidence in testing methods, results and performance of personnel, enhanced confidence in Test Reports issued by AMTC, Better control of AMTC operations and periodic feedback from NABL Auditors to AMTC regarding Quality Assurance System and technical competency.

"We are extremely proud to have received the prestigious NABL Accreditation from the Government of India. This milestone will positively enhance the trust and confidence among our customers on our range of industrial motors, and also the methods adopted for testing our products are in line with international standards," said Bhaskar Mandal - Country Division Lead, Process Industries and Drives, Siemens Limited.

Equipped with 8 fully-automated test benches for testing motors in a wide range, AMTC is the first lab in India to be accredited by NABL. Operational since November 2013, it meets the new Standard (IEC 60034-2-1) for test methods for efficiency calculation.
