Siemens UAE Employees Participate In Local Blood Drive

Siemens employees in the UAE Wednesday and Thursday lined up to participate in a blood donation campaign in coordination with Dubai's Latifa Hospital and Abu Dhabi's Sheikh Khalifa Medical City. Held at Siemens' Dubai office at The Galleries in Downtown Jebel Ali on February 29 and in Abu Dhabi on March 1, the initiative is in line with the company's commitment to engage actively in the communities it is involved in. "The blood drive truly was a success and I am pleased with the positive response we got from our employees," said Guenter Baumgartner, Siemens head of corporate communications in the Middle East. "Today's number of donors actually exceeded our expectations and we had to end the activity earlier than planned."
