

Siemens EDA On-Demand Training is easy to use and provided us real time on-the-job access to rich educational content. Learning while practicing on real world designs using a robust cloud-based lab environment that hosts the Siemens EDA software makes this training extremely effective. The ability to self-train, start and stop, and learn when and where convenient is key! Getting help and support is easy and the ability to have the same user profile for the on-demand platform and Siemens EDA Support Center has made navigation between these resources seamless.”
