

Our history in Croatia

From the first business contacts to a global technology powerhouse

1886–1893

Siemens Österreich (ÖSSW) agrees to build a municipal power plant with a lighting system for the city council of Agram (Zagreb)

1910

ÖSSW supplies Agram (Zagreb) with an electric streetcar

Around 1910

ÖSSW opens a Technical Bureau in Agram (Zagreb)

1921

Siemens AG in Yugoslavia (Jugoslovensko Siemens d.d. Zagreb-Beograd), with a heavy current and a light current department, is founded by ÖSSW and Siemens & Halske Vienna

1930

Siemens AG in Yugoslavia supplies electrical components for the Karlstadt hydroelectric power plant and builds the power transmission line Agram (Zagreb)-Karlstadt

1941

Siemens AG in Yugoslavia is dissolved and Siemens AG in Croatia is founded in Zagreb

1945

Siemens AG in Croatia is dissolved

1966

Siemens supplies remote control equipment for the state railways in Croatia

1992

A Siemens sales company, Siemens d.d., is founded in Zagreb

1994

Siemens and the Croatian Koncar Holding found a joint venture for transformers in Zagreb (Koncar Power Transformers Ltd.)

2002

Siemens supplies the electrical equipment for the “project of the century” involving the water supply system and waste water treatment system at Kaštela Bay (Split)

2007

Siemens supports the Croatian government in introducing a border management information system

Our history in Croatia

2011

Siemens signs a contract with ECO d.o.o. for the delivery of 16 wind turbines for the Zadar 2 WF and Zadar 3 WF projects making this the largest individual contract ever for Siemens in Croatia

2012

The Ministry of Health and Siemens Croatia sign a PET/CT scanner supply contract for the Zagreb University Hospital Center

2012

A Siemens consortium wins the contract for the delivery of a modern electronic signaling and safety system at Zagreb main station